

July 2023

On behalf of the Illinois Dermatological Society (IDS) and its board of directors, I am writing to request your participation as an exhibitor at the upcoming IDS 2023 Mid-Year Conference on Friday, Sept. 29. This meeting will take place at the Stephens Convention Center in Rosemont, IL.

We are offering two levels of participation: The Platinum Level is $5,000 and provides up to two 6-foot display tables “front and center” in the exhibit area and special recognition for the company. The Standard Exhibitor level is $2,000 and offers a 6-foot tabletop display. All exhibiting companies will receive a list of conference attendees. Vendor displays are situated prominently to assure the opportunity to interact with our members. All breaks, including continental breakfast, are served in the exhibit area which is separate from the educational lecture room. In compliance with CME rules, IDS notes that the program content has been developed without any influence of commercial interests.

Our Federal Tax ID is: 37-1042921.

This conference will focus on Medicare rules, coding compliance and advocacy issues of importance to dermatologists and their patients.

Please visit the IDS website for complete program details:

Thank you very much for your consideration. If you need any additional information, please feel free to contact me at your convenience.

Sincerely yours,

Richard H. Paul
Executive Director
